Objective of the programme:

Banking has emerged as one of the most preferred career options among the young generation today. An Engineering graduate has a natural competency to crack any aptitude-based exam (Quant, Reasoning and verbal). This factor provides an edge over other candidates (Non-Engineering) to crack government exams where the evaluation process is based on analytical ability & mathematical aptitude. So a seminar “ Skills needed for Career in Banking” was conducted on 9th July 2022 to motivate the B.Tech students to learn the necessary skills needed to get opportunities in banking sector.

The webinars enlightened about how to improve the skills such as

- Self-reliance
- Interpersonal skills.
- Problem-solving skills.
- Commercial awareness.
- Teamwork
- Self-confidence and self-esteem.

Which in turn increases placements of the institution and ultimately admissions and reputation of the Institute. Nearly 280 students participated and benefited.

The resource person is
