

RESEARCH LAB

The department of MBA is equipped with Business Research lab included with various analytical softwares that are used for statistical data analysis. The software likes R software, Excel, SPSS and Tally are provided for the students and faculty members to conduct their research activities like company analysis and report presentation, project work and article preparation.

The Faculty members have equipped themselves in analytical tools by attending FDPs and other training programmes. The faculty of MBA department provides training in regular intervals for MBA students on the software and makes students get knowledge and practices in the research areas